Fishing has been at its best the past week—speckles have been caught off the Railroad Bridge, at Waveland and Clermont Harbor. Out in the marshes, good catches have been made each day, especially over the weekend.

Among those who caught speckles outside were Luke Elliott, Joe Glover, Yours Truly, August Rauter and son Nicky who caught around 500 speckles and white trout Saturday. They weren't monsters but good eating size. All agreed it was one of the largest catches made recently.

Zary Is Speaker

At Meeting Of

Bay-Waveland GC

James Zary, 2000 Woodland, was the featured speaker at the Bay-Waveland Golf and Country Club's 10th anniversary celebration. Zary, who was introduced by Mr. H. H. Ogden, stated that Mississippi ranks seventh in the nation in water resources. Two-thirds of the people of the world do not have sufficient or convenient water. He added, "God gave us," he continued, "three things, time, talents and treasures and we are meant to act as stewards for our life time with the responsibility of passing them on to future generations."

Slides were shown demonstrating good and poor stewardship on the part of our Mississippi farmers. Mr. Zary demonstrated contour planting, a new system which replaces the old method of putting crops out in straight rows. The new system, he cited, produces and harnesses more moisture. Soil erosion was also demonstrated in detail with an explanation of the proper grasses to be used.

Mr. Zary stressed the importance of proper fertilization and the damage caused by poor or lack of fertilization. He also discussed the use of water sheds in Mississippi to harness our water supply. Mr. Hugh V. Sanford, Hancock County Soil Conservationist assisted Mr. Zary with the program.

Mrs. R. F. Gray, president, conducted the business session.

The constitution and by-laws were read by Mrs. E. P. Kirkpatrick, parliamentarian and Mrs. Al Voight gave a demonstration on making crescent arrangements.

Mrs. Voight discussed the Christmas bazaar to be given in lieu of the regular Christmas show and asked for cooperation from the members. Mrs. Ben Hille, Sr., pilgrimage chairman, gave an outline of the 1962 pilgrimage.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Voight and co-hostesses, Mesdames Waldo Otis, Archibald I. Bruff, R. W. Riggs, K. T. Breland, Harold Hicks, Wallace Chevis, Harold Powell, A. J. Chapman, Sr., and Joseph Robert.

HOME AGENT'S NOTES

MARCIA D. HUGHES
Home Demonstration Agent

For years homemakers have been told to save energy. They should work sitting down. Now laboratory tests show that women actually use 4 per cent more energy when they sit, rather than stand to wash dishes or iron.

The studies that showed these results are being continued by U. S. Department of Agriculture home economists to see if their findings apply to longer work periods as well as to the short periods used in the tests. In these studies the women worked at each job four minutes.

The studies showed that lifting things from a kitchen counter to shelves above the counter takes more energy when done from a sitting position — an average of 4 percent more for a 5 pound object, and 6 percent more for a 1 pound object.

To roll out dough takes 9 percent more energy when you are sitting on a kitchen stool than it does when you're standing. Getting on and off a kitchen stool adds to the effort of work done while sitting. Women seated used 13 percent more energy for dishwashing than they used when standing up to do this job.

LOOK AT YOUR KITCHEN

Are there faults in your kitchen that you'd like changed? Is there wasted space because shelves are too far apart? You can solve this problem by adding step shelves on legs, by adding permanent, full size shelves or by using other accessories. Are the shelves too high? Or too low? Try to correct this by storing items you seldom use on these high or low shelves. This will save climbing, stretching and stooping. To make things easy to grasp, add vertical dividers that are portable and slanting at top or bottom.

If you have wasted space under the sink, look it over for the possibility of adding towel bars. Leave enough room for towels to dry. Add a rack on the cabinet door for cleaners. Other ways of making use of the space are to add a waste can or basket, plastic vegetable bins, step shelves or vertical dividers.

If drawers are cluttered, begin to correct this problem by throwing away articles you don't use. Add dividers or cutlery tray. In deep drawers add vertical dividers for storing pans, tins, cooling racks and flat items.

If you have unused wall space, add a cabinet, even if it is only a narrow one. A peg board has many handy and decorative uses. You can make use of cabinets that are too deep for large containers and for storing trays. You might try adding sliding shelves, swing out shelves on doors or sliding pot hooks.

Use cabinet doors, too. They are handy for shelves, rack, hooks, spices, measuring spoons, cups, or a cookbook rack.

Pasture Land Needs Work In September

There is a lot of pasture work to be done in September, and one of the first things is to prepare land for late September and early October planting of small grains. The September plantings can be used for winter grazing and grain and the October plantings for spring grazing, grain or hay. Another job for right now is getting clovers back into areas where they have played out.

SECOND LARGEST CIRCUS COMING TO BAY ST. LOUIS OCT. 16

Final arrangements were completed today for the second largest circus to come to Bay St. Louis, the Miller Bros. Circus, in Bay St. Louis on Monday, October 16th.

The second largest circus will erect its huge tent at Scardi Bros. Showgrounds, Hwy 90, and present both afternoon and night performances.

The 1961 program of this famed circus will feature many newly improved performers, among them Empress Leota, who will subjugate a rare and savage group of jungle beasts. Spotted leopards, Russian wolf dogs, a black panther and a striped zebra will be presented harmoniously in a huge steel arena. Other highlight will include the fearless high trapeze act of the Padilla family of Spain, the Alfonso Loyal Troupe of bareback horse riders and Princess White Buffalo, renowned for her interpretation of ancient Indian tribal dances.

This will mark the first appearance of a large tent circus here in 30 years and undoubtedly the only one to have a complete menagerie of animals from five continents. The Al G. Kelly and Miller Bros. Circus will display such seldom seen beasts as giraffes, hippos, rhinoceros, polar bears, kangaroos, camels and many caged jungle animals. Of course monkeys, educated chimpanzees, prancing llamas, balancing seals and a herd of 15 elephants will be present.

The 25th Anniversary Edition of this circus will be spiced with a majestic spectacular, Babes in Toyland, which will portray many of the favorite fairy tales and nursery rhymes in a parade of colorful floats, zany clowns and attractive girls.

INDEBTEDNESS OF
TWO TOLL SPANS
ON COAST SHOWN

The Mississippi Highway Commission still owes a bonded indebtedness of $8,010,000, on the Bay St. Louis toll bridge and $5,400,000 on the Pascagoula toll span, according to annual audits.

Both bridges are located on U.S. Highway 90, a major east-west thoroughfare.

The Bay St. Louis bridge, opened Aug. 2, 1953, was constructed on an original issue of $1,600,000 in bonds. A $9,200,000 bond issue financed construction of the Pascagoula bridge which opened on Oct. 16, 1954.

Audits show that 17,488,073 vehicles have since used the Bay St. Louis span and 17,212,595 have crossed the Pascagoula bridge. Of these, 94,199 crossed toll-free at Bay St. Louis and 72,379 crossed toll-free at Pascagoula.

Traffic during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1961, the audit close-out date, totaled 2,401,535 at Bay St. Louis and 2,823,179 at Pascagoula. Both figure represent increases over the 1960 fiscal year totals.

The audits note that retirement of bonds on both bridges is running well ahead of requirements.

According to terms of the trust indenture and agreement on the Bay St. Louis bridge, the audit said only $875,000 was required to be retired by June 30, 1961, while $2,275,000 in excess of this amount has been retired.

PASCAGOULA SPAN

For the Pascagoula bridge, only $565,000 was required to be retired by last June 30 and the audit notes that $3,235,000 in excess of this amount has been retired by the trustee.

However, the audit points out that about $987,000 of the Bay St. Louis excess was provided by gasoline tax collections of prior years which are no longer available to pay off bonded indebtedness. And about $1,600,000 of the Pascagoula bridge excess was derived from excess construction funds and gasoline tax collections also no longer available for that purpose.

Bay St. Louis bridge bonds retired ahead of schedule include $1,865,000 in 1961 maturities bearing 3 1/2 per cent interest and $710,000 in 1961 maturities bearing 4 per cent interest.

Pascagoula bridge bonds retired ahead of schedule include $2,455,000 in 1963 maturities, $445,000 in 1962 maturities and $395,000 in 1961 maturities.

FUND SURPLUS

The Bay St. Louis bridge fund had a surplus of $3,089,212.66 on hand June 30, 1960, and the balance on hand had increased to $3,491,855.56 at the end of the fiscal year on June 30, 1961.

Receipts for the year included $643,026.12 in tolls, $12,500 in reserve fund income and $810.23 in insurance premium adjustments.

Annual expenses were listed as interest, $222,630; premium on bonds retired, $8,547.50; advertising bonds called, $286.86; paying agent's fees, $960.98; trustee's fees, $3,021.86; attorney fee-trustee, $1,000; and insurance, $17,146.25.

The Pascagoula bridge fund had a surplus of $2,927,658.88 on hand on June 30, 1960, and the balance on hand had increased to $3,369,232.58 at the end of the fiscal year on June 30, 1961.

Receipts for the year included $675,652.30 in toll collections.

Annual expenses were listed as interest, $219,172.13; premium on bonds retired, $12,425; paying agent's fees, $901.15; advertising bonds called, $283.82; trustee's fees, $786.50; and attorney fee-trustee, $500.

The Bay St. Louis bridge audit states that the principal changes in vehicle traffic and tolls collected occurred in Class 1 (essentially passenger cars) and Class 9 (commuters using tickets). The former decreased 92,226 vehicles at 25 cents per vehicle and the latter increased 119,027 vehicles, at five cents per vehicle, for the most part, with a small number of commuters using the old 12 1/2 cent tickets.

Trustees for both bridges did not recommend any further changes in toll rates for the fiscal year which began July 1, 1961.

The Pascagoula-Moss Point Bank is trustee for the Pascagoula bridge fund and the Hancock Bank, Gulfport, is trustee for the Bay St. Louis bridge fund.

VOTE ~~X~~ FOR...
Mississippi's
Greatest Industrial Opportunity
Tuesday,
October 3

W. C. Smith, President, Standard Oil Company of Kentucky, (left), and Governor Ross Barnett are here discussing Standard's decision (August 1961) to locate its $125 million refinery at Pascagoula, Mississippi. It will employ over 700 with an annual payroll of over $3,500,000.00.

Governor Ross Barnett says:

"Industrialists all over the nation will be watching Mississippi on October 3. A great, overwhelming vote FOR the two Amendments will open wide the door for many new industries all over Mississippi."

"Standard Oil Company of Kentucky has made a commitment to build a $125-million oil refinery in Jackson County, at Pascagoula, provided the people of Mississippi make certain changes in state laws that will enable this and other new industries to operate in Mississippi on a basis comparable to conditions now existing in our neighboring states.

"This is the greatest single industrial development opportunity ever presented to the people of Mississippi."

"The benefits from this will be statewide. The desired changes in our laws will encourage all types of industries, large and small, to seek Mississippi sites as a place to operate on a very favorable basis; and, will also encourage industries operating in our state to expand or add to existing facilities.

"I am confident that you will be sure to vote FOR both Amendments on October 3, so that Mississippi may move into a new and greater day of economic progress."

VOTE ~~X~~ FOR AMENDING SECTION 182
OF THE CONSTITUTION

to extend from five to ten years the period which a valorem tax exemptions may be offered to new industry by all of the counties of the state. And, to include expansion of facilities or new additions to present industries for like periods of exemptions. (A ten year exemption is now allowed in municipalities but not in the counties.)

VOTE ~~X~~ FOR AMENDING SECTION 211
OF THE CONSTITUTION

to permit the sale of 16th Section lands in areas involving industrial development or to authorize the lease of such land for periods up to 99 years, when approved by the legislature. Our counties are now permitted to lease 16th Section lands for only 25 years, while municipalities can now lease such lands for 99 years.
